The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4, and 6-28, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, 28, the recitation at the beginning of line 5 is contradictory to the recitation at the end of line 5 through line 7, because the rinsing step is required to be done both, after and during polishing.

In claim 18, the recitation at the beginning of line 3 is contradictory to the recitation at the end of line 3 through line 4 because the rinsing step is required to be done both, after and during polishing.

In claim 23, the recitation at the beginning of line 5 is contradictory to the recitation at the end of line 5 through line 7, because the rinsing step is required to be done both, after and during polishing.

In claim 25, the recitation at the beginning of line 3 is contradictory to the recitation at the end of line 3 through line 4, because the rinsing step is required to be done both, after and during polishing.

In claim 26, the recitation at the beginning of line 5 is contradictory to the recitation at the end of line 5 through line 7 because the rinsing step is required to be done both, after and during polishing.

Art Unit: 2823

In claim 28, the recitation at the beginning of line 3 is contradictory to the recitation at the end of line 3 through line 5 because the rinsing step is required to be done both, after and during polishing.

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-4, and 6-28, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because due to the contradictory recitations stated above, the claims recite a process that cannot be performed.
